

The Anaheim Police Officers Association's Choice to Protect Kids from Sex offenders

To help protect kids from sexual predators, Curt supported passage of a new law that keeps sex offenders away from schools and requires them to wear GPS devices so law enforcement can better track them.

Curt helped form a new foundation to raise funds for a children's library.

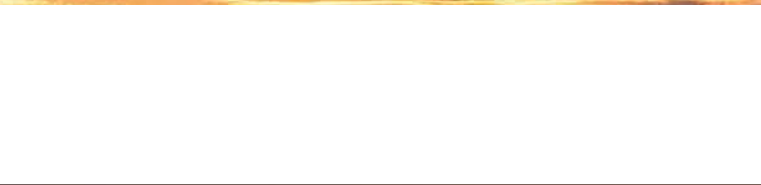

Curt and his wife, Grace have been married for 13 years and have two children, Jonathan and Elizabeth.

Curt Hagman is a business owner, mayor, community volunteer, dedicated father of two and devoted husband.

REPUBLICAN LEADERSHIP

To protect our families from sex offenders, higher taxes, and liberal policies that threaten our way of life.

The National Tax Limitation's Committee's Choice to Protect Us from Government Waste

Curt worked to fight government waste – enacting tough reforms to save millions of tax dollars as workforce investment board chairman. Today, that board is considered the most efficient in the country.

As co-founder of Community Volunteers Assisting Law Enforcement, Curt helped improve public safety response without spending any additional tax dollars.

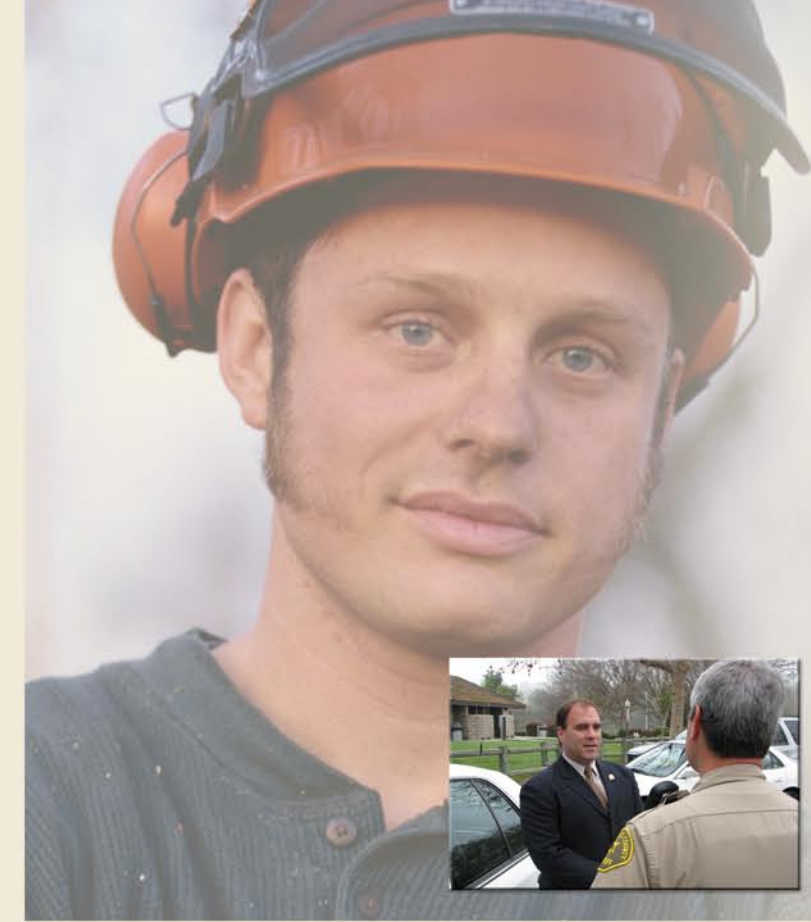

The Howard Jarvis Taxpayers Association's Choice to Protect Families from Higher Taxes

As a signatory of the "Americans for No New Taxes" pledge, Curt will vote against any measure that might threaten or weaken Proposition 13 and increase taxes on homeowners.

As mayor and city councilman, Curt Hagman balanced every budget without raising taxes.

Californians Against Illegal Immigration's choice to protect taxpayers from the high cost of illegal immigration

Through his 12 years of volunteer law enforcement work, Curt has seen how illegal immigration crowds our jails and costs taxpayers billions of dollars.

That's why he will push to save $750 million by deporting illegal immigrants who have raped, murdered or committed other violent crimes to jails in their home countries.
